NORDICA

SEATS ON SALE

ONE NIGHT, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 1ST

PRESS AGENTS SAY

WHITNEY WITH NORDICA.

Mayron W. Whitney, the basso, who will be heard here with Nordica, is the youngest son and namesake of the late Myron W. Whitney, who delighted an earlier generation and was considered the greatest basso of his time. To be the son of a famous father is something of a handicap, but Whitney has succeeded in overcoming it and has won a reputation and following on his own merits and not on the reflected glory of his father's name. Whitney, the elder, was a mass prodigy while Whitney, the younger, is a basso cantante of "singing" bass, to use the vernacular and his style of work is distinctly different from that of his noted father. He is a singer with rare natural qualifications while his musical heritage is evidenced in all that he does. His singing is especially noteworthy from the dramatic art with which every number is colored and made forceful. No matter how widely divergent the mode of his selection may run, he is always able to convey them to his auditors by his rare interpretative powers. Mr. Whitney has been associated with Mme. Nordica in all her concert tours during the past year.

"THE EARL OF PAWTUCKET."

"People ever here have a queer way of chaffing one," remarked Lawrence D'Orsay, who is starring this season under the management of John Cort in an elaborate revival of "The Earl of Pawtucket." "Last year," continued Mr. D'Orsay, "I was jolly well taking with a friend about a cow I purchased for $50 and afterwards sold for $150 and it seemed a ravishing bargain for myself as we had all the milk we wanted and I sold the cow before sailing for my summer home in England, and the profit was donated to you know. It was possibly what one would term a good bargain. I remarked to a friend in a sort of jesture way that he would agree with me and if you will just stop to consider the percentage of profit you will see I made no drivin' bargain, but blavet me if that friend did not turn on me in a sort of blue funk as 'I had come a cropper and remark, 'sargeant that was no bargain; that was so profit you made, it was larceny you committed.'"

"You know," continued D'Orsay, "I did not get him for a week and then I laughed for he was chaffing me you know."

"I went to an apothecary store the other day," continued the actor, "and asked the clerk back of the soda water counter for a bottle of club soda and as he seemed very much interested in a conversation with the young lady, I remarked to a friend in a sort of jesture way that he would agree with me and if you will just stop to consider the percentage of profit you will see I made no drivin' bargain, but blavet me if that friend did not turn on me in a sort of blue funk as 'I had come a cropper and remark, 'sargeant that was no bargain; that was so profit you made, it was larceny you committed.'"

"You know," continued D'Orsay, "I did not get him for a week and then I laughed for he was chaffing me you know."

DIFFICULT TO GET THRESHING DONE

SCARCITY OF OUTFITS IN SOUTH AND SOME GRAIN WILL NOT BE TOUCHED THIS FALL.

Farmers in the south of the province are finding it very difficult to get their grain threshed this season, according to J. B. McMaster of McLeod, who is in Edmonton today on business. McMaster has an interest in a farm a short distance from McLeod and to a candid reporter last evening he said that through a scarcity of outfits in the southern districts many of the farmers are despairing of getting their crop threshed at all before the freeze up. Speaking of general harvest conditions in the McLeod district Mr. McMaster said that much of the spring wheat is yielding as high as forty bushels per acre. In cases where it was planted early it escaped damage from frost entirely. Late-sown wheat was damaged but though the grain will not be as high as was expected the yield per acre is large and the farmers on the whole are well satisfied with the season's operations.

"Present indications point to a large crop throughout the province next year," he said. "There is an abundance of moisture in the ground to insure a good crop even with little rain. Many of the farmers in the south of the province especially have summer fallowed large areas which will be under crop next year. A good crop almost invariably is produced on summer fallow."

ROWELL WILL LEAD ONTARIO LIBERALS

Takes the Place of A. G. McKay, Whose Resignation Was Accepted Yesterday—Suggests Planks for New Platform—New Leader is Very Capable

(Western Associated Press.)

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Ontario Liberals under a new leader, N. W. Rowell, K. C., of Toronto, having accepted the proffered position last night, at the annual association meeting. He will not attend the session of the General Reform association of Ontario.

Harrassed by dissatisfaction in his own party and threatened with no action in the courts, which involved a personal honor, A. G. McKay, today tendered his resignation as leader of the parliamentary committee. The members of the party outside Toronto were eager to accept the resignation and endeavored to get Mr. McKay to reconsider his decision, but he was determined to step out of the political arena and insisted that the resignation be accepted.

The announcement was made at the morning session of the annual meeting of the Reform association and after a discussion lasting all day, N. W. Rowell, K. C., was chosen to lead the party. A large number of delegates were of the opinion that Mr. Rowell was practically unknown to the rank and file outside of Toronto, and that he had no seat in the house. One Toronto Liberal, stated that West Midland was the proper constituency for Mr. Rowell to contest, as Liberal candidate; but doubt was expressed as to whether J. G. Elliott, the sitting member, would retire in his favor.

During the day and evening sessions, many suggestions were made as to what should be done to build a platform. The liquor question was discussed and argued at great length, being finally left to the committee on resolutions which had so many suggestions to consider that it was impossible to present a report this evening, and it will be made in a few days.

Mr. Rowell spoke for half an hour in accepting the leadership of the party. After expressing appreciation of the confidence placed in him, he said that while he had accepted it with reluctance because of the responsibilities of the position and the difficulty of discharging the duties in view of the demands of other interests, he could not assume the active leadership for ten days yet, because of professional engagements.

Mr. Rowell then paid a tribute to Mr. McKay's ability and services and regretted that circumstances had prompted his resignation. Mr. Rowell expressed confidence that the party would be able to put up a good fight in the election and he knew he would have the loyal support of all his followers. Mr. Rowell briefly advocated measures along the lines of social and moral reform.

Newton Wesley Rowell, K. C., of Toronto, new leader of the Liberal party in Ontario, was born in Middlesex, England, just 44 years ago. At London, Ontario, he studied law and called to the bar in 1891. In 1902, he was created a K. C. He has been a prominent corporation lawyer and played an important part in the reorganization of the Lake Superior Corporation in 1903. He was a strong opponent of Sunday cars in Toronto in the local campaign of 1903 and 1907. A leading Methodist and temperance advocate, he has taken part in many religious movements and is a member of the international committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement. Mr. Rowell is senior partner of the legal firm of Rowell, Reid, Wilkie, Wood and Gilson.

He was defeated to step out of the political arena and insisted that the resignation be accepted.

AN AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL IS NEEDED

TO TEACH PRINCIPLES OF MIXED FARMING, SAYS SECRETARY OF EDMONTON BOARD OF TRADE.

"Few of Alberta's farmers realize the possibilities of the soil they are cultivating," said Secretary Fisher, of the board of trade yesterday, commenting on the success of Alberta exhibits at the dry farming exhibition in Colorado Springs and the necessity for immediate and concerted action on the part of legislative representatives of every section of the province in founding an agricultural school where a scientific study can be made of soil productivity and the effect of climatic conditions on various phases of farming operations that have not yet been introduced in the west owing to popular belief that natural conditions are relentlessly against their success.

"Old-timers in the province who have been farming the soil for years have not come to realize what can be done here," he continued. "They are farming, in the majority of cases, at least, by the old rule of thumb methods, and are not getting the best results from the soil. Many farmers honestly believe that roots cannot be grown successfully in Alberta, but the fact remains nevertheless, that this province produces better crops of roots than any other part of the Dominion and few parts of the United States can equal it. The success of Alberta exhibits at the recent dry farming exhibition, however, will do much to turn the attention of agriculturists to the high standard at which the province ranks in the quality of its products. One often hears it said by farmers that the vegetables and roots they grow are of a pretty good quality for this country, but the truth of the matter is that they are of as good or better quality than can be produced in any other section of the American continent."

Mr. Fisher said that he had no faith in the belief of some board of trade workers of the west that everyone who comes to the prairie provinces with a view of farming wants to hear of nothing but the possibilities of the country for growing wheat. During his experience in board of trade work he has discovered that that is not the case.

Many farmers are anxious to secure lands that will grow hay and coarse grain for feeding purposes to support the stock required in the mixed farming industry, and in Mr. Fisher's opinion no time should be lost in establishing a provincial agricultural school that would teach the most advanced principles of diversified farming to the rising generation of agriculturists.

Head of Public Works Committee Declares that Main Street Is in Good Condition—Mayor Says It Is Not—Stormy Session of Strathcona Council

Strathcona, Nov. 1.—For another time during the present municipal year the civic administration, like almost every other, has been subjected to a full representation of the wards appeared in their places and the customary undercurrent of harmony seemed to be agitated to an unusual degree throughout the evening. When the opportunity offered, Alderman Rankin declared that he noticed in the press that during his absence from the city certain members of the council had seen fit to criticize rather harshly the work of the public works committee for their neglect of Main street south. He also referred directly to the action of Mayor Davies that the condition of this street was a disgrace, that he would let the public works committee what he thought about affairs if something was not done to remedy matters at once.

"This attack was exceedingly unfair," said Alderman Rankin addressing himself to the mayor, "and I want to say right here in defence of any statements or charges to the contrary that Main street south has received its full share of attention this year and that no other street in the city has been given more consideration from the public works committee. The weather was bad and it was impossible for a time to maintain any of the streets in first class shape. Besides two blocks of Main street were to have been paved and remained for the paving contractors to put that particular portion of the street in good shape once it was found impossible to put in the permanent road this year. The committee is not composed of paid officials but the same time we have put in steady work for the city during the entire season and we have done the best we could under the circumstances. There was no reason for an attack of the kind Mayor Davies made against us and I think it was very unfair."

Alderman Richards pointed out to Alderman Rankin that it was thought advisable to put Main street south in shape without delay when it became known that the city would not be completed this fall. He also referred to the grade at the south end which is too narrow to permit teams passing upon it. Alderman Rankin said the question of placing the street in good shape rested entirely with the paving company and the city had nothing to do with it.

Mayor Davies responded to the attack in full panoply. He stated plainly to Alderman Rankin that he considered Main street south to be an important thoroughfare and neglected for years. The bad condition in which it was left for several weeks this year when the sidewalks were torn away and their former locations covered with clay prior to the construction of the concrete walks he condemned severely. "I am not finding fault with the work which the committee has done. If you think, Alderman Rankin, that you have attended to that street in a creditable manner why I must say that your opinions and mine differ as to what constitutes the best." I am prepared to back up any assertions that were made in the relation to the question when it came up in council one week ago."

Alderman Rankin said he wanted also to correct a report which had appeared in the Journal which stated that the public works committee had taken steps to improve Main street after the affair was opened up in council. He wished to state that the committee had taken no hand in the work carried out, it had been done by other authorities, whom he did not know. At any rate it was work that would have been done by the paving company.

For a time the main combatants were exceedingly warm but the tension relaxed towards the end of the evening and nothing further is likely to result from the misunderstanding.

Want Many More Lights.

Alderman Tipton for the special committee appointed to recommend where new electric lights should be placed in the city reported that many more are considered necessary without delay, reading over a list of places in each of the four wards. Alderman Loughlin and Pollard also thought that Ward Three was dealt with along lines too uncertain and at length the report was accepted with the understanding that additions may be made to the list by the afternoon of each ward until general satisfaction is given. Alderman Rankin wanted to know why the present are lamps are often turned off at an early hour at night. Alderman Vogel explained that trouble with one of the boilers at the power plant had made necessary the cutting of light at 10 o'clock the previous night. Alderman Richards again asserted that the electric generating plant is now overloaded to the danger point and that it often becomes necessary to turn off lamps on suburban lines in order to give householders sufficient light.

Paving Company Quits Work.

Alderman Rankin reported that the paving company had announced that they would be unable to complete the paving contract this year owing to the closing in of frost. He said that the company were agreeable to fixing up Whyte avenue and in good shape for winter traffic. Alderman Vogel and Richards objected to the present contract, which, the former holding that the company could have completed the work if the proper progress had been made. Alderman Rankin contended that the company had done the best they could under adverse weather conditions up to the season. Alderman Calder explained that the south side of Whyte had been left unpaved some distance west of the Fifth street line on account of the request of the street railway, that the space be left open for installation of the curve in the tracks. Alderman Richards said this space should be well planned. The matter was referred to the public works committee for a report.

Hospital Question Still Troublesome.

Only one tender was to hand for the excavation for the basement of the new hospital. The council dealt with this one drew out queries regarding the plans that soon had the whole hospital problem in the midst of a lively discussion. Alderman Rankin wanted to know if the building is to be based on an avenue or a lane. The site on the university grounds extends between Third and Fourth avenues north and to erect the hospital facing on Eighth street west would situate it opposite a lane instead of an avenue. Alderman Vogel explained that the architect, J. S. Strum, of Chicago, wanted the building faced north on Fourth avenue in order that the wards would all have the benefit of the sun on the south side. However, he went on to declare that the city's hands were tied in the whole matter of a site as the university officials have the situation entirely under their control. Several of the aldermen thought that there would be difficulty in having a slight alteration of the site when the matter was placed before the university officials.

"This hospital question is becoming an old one," said Alderman Tipton, "and it has dragged along to such an extent that I am disgusted with the whole situation and I am aggravated when it is brought up. It really begins to look as if we would never have a hospital. The question was threshed out all last year and it seemed last spring that we would have the new building ready by this fall, and now here we are no further along and there is no possibility of a start at construction being made for another several months. If the city cannot have a voice in the location of the building then the city had better build the hospital on their own site. I confess I am tired of the way the whole matter has been held up and for one member of this council I don't propose to have the university authorities dictate as to everything that shall be done in connection with the erection of the hospital. The city is paying for the institution and if some definite steps are not taken very shortly I shall be in favor of the city going ahead with the building on their own site. The whole thing should be investigated and the blame placed where it belongs. I don't think the hospital committee is at fault because I know Alderman Vogel, has worked hard on the matter all summer."

Alderman Rankin said he thought the discussion was drifting away from the real issue as he did not understand that the university officials were tying up the work at present. He had no doubt that they would readily agree to a slight change in the site if such as desired by council. The question was as to the advisability of dealing with the matter by commencing work this fall. Alderman Rankin said it was a mistake to start the excavation this fall as the work could be better and more cheaply in March or later in the spring. The frost at present will make excavation very difficult. At length the tender was referred to the hospital committee and it is likely that a special session of the council will be held to go further into the matter.

Accounts totaling $5,221.20 were ordered paid.

Pave the Lanes.

Alderman Richards proposed that the big program for next year made still larger by adding several of the more important lanes to the list for improvement. These lanes would parallel and intersect Whyte avenue. Referred to the public works committee.

On motion of Alderman Tipton it was decided to grant Mr. A. Campbell the sum of $100 for his work as secretary of the amalgamation committee. Half of this amount will be borne by Edmonton.

On motion of Alderman Rankin, the finance committee were requested to prepare a report on the debentures to be voted upon for next year.

Mr. Murray, who has the contract for winter scavenging, appeared to protest against the sanitary conditions in some parts of town. He thought the summer contractors should finish their work. It was explained that the summer contractors are still on these places and will have everything cleaned up before the week end. The Edmonton-Strathcona land company, wrote asking that the council cooperate with them in making a good road to Mayfair. Referred to aldermen and public works committee for report. A plan for the registration of Mrs. Schuch's property was turned over to the same body. A petition from Prof. Miller, for the location of a bath through a block owned by him was referred to the city engineer.

Mr. Oliver appeared for the Local

Orangeamen asking that they might be reimbursed for the use of their property as a storage ground for the city during the past few years. He agreed to make this request in writing.

A communication from the department of Railways and Canals informing council of an application from the C. N. R. for alteration in their right of way plans into this city was to hand. The accompanying plans show that the railway will cross from the southeast over the C.P.R. tracks some distance south of the city and follow closely their present right of way thence up to the station site on Second avenue south. The matter was referred to the railway committee.

Jeremiah Daly appeared to severely arraign the public works committee for the way in which the city improvements have been carried out. He found serious fault with the manner in which the paving was done on business streets not much in use, while the roads traversed by farmers coming in to town were left in poor condition. Mr. Daly, in giving his last advice of the year to the council, as he expressed it, also warned them that the municipal books should be put in better shape before the amalgamation with Vancouver is made. He evidently did not have a high opinion of the manner in which the civic accounting has been carried on.

HALLOWE'EN QUIET

The pranks of Halloween evenings were apparent about the city this morning, but on the whole the event was very peacefully observed by the younger element. Scores of boys and girls were busy until the midnight hour in playing innocent jokes on various phases in town but the real property damage was no doubt the smallest in years. The police were following the boys closely and the moonlight made it hard for any big scheme of fun-making to be carried into effect.

One of the most enjoyable functions in celebration of the event was a social by members of the Y.M.C. and the Y.W.C.A. in the club rooms at the former. A large number of guests took part in the evening's program of entertainment.

ADVENTISTS HOLD CONVENTIONS SOON

WILL OPPOSE EVERY ATTEMPT AT RELIGIOUS LEGISLATION IN THE AMERICAN OCEAN.

(Western Associated Press) Washington, Nov. 1.—An aggressive campaign in opposition to every attempt at religious legislation in congress or in any state legislature was started today by the fall council of the general conference of Seventh Day Adventists, when it voted to hold religious liberty conventions in all parts of the United States this winter.

In starting the campaign the Adventists reiterated their belief in absolute religious equality and their opposition to Sunday laws and all movements which would tend to unduly church and state.

The conventions, which are to continue for ten days each, in part will be as follows: Lincoln, Nebraska, January 15 to February 4; Calgary, Canada, March 6 to 19; Milwaukee, Wisconsin, April 16 to 28; Toronto, Canada, June 27 to July 5.

Elder Burnham, of Alberta, was elected president of the Montana conference.

SUBJECT SYMPHONY.

The Schubert Symphony club played a large audience at St. John's hall last evening, when they presented one of the most enjoyable musical programs ever heard in this city. The program was a real musical treat and everyone was sorry when it was over. The ladies quartet was marked by the neatness and precision of their work and were brought back to respond to encores time and time again. Miss Leeta Conder has a splendidly clear and bright soprano voice, and with the aria from Nibelungen in constant favor. Thomas Valentine won instant favor. Thomas Valentine won instant favor. Thomas Valentine won instant favor. A number of light instrumental numbers were also given and the whole resulted in a highly delighted audience. St. John's Chronicle.

Edmonton Portland Cement Company, Limited

Lieutenant-Governor G. H. V. BULYEA, Chairman

As announced in all the daily papers of Edmonton, the shares of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company, Limited, will be advanced from par to $110 on the 10th of this month.

In successfully handling any great industrial enterprise, two results are necessary. One is to build the factory so that it will produce the product at the minimum cost and earn dividends, and the other is to create a large and active market for the shares. In the development of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company, Limited, far more attention has been given to the proper organization of the enterprise as an industrial, than to stock selling. The most competent cement plant engineers obtainable have been secured. The plant is being built on the most modern and scientific lines, and the methods of operating the plant are so thoroughly worked out and carefully determined, that when the plant is in operation in August next year, it will be working to a design as accurately prepared in advance as a building is erected according to the designs of the architect.

In other words, we know exactly how Portland Cement can be produced at this factory at a cost of 78c per barrel, and everyone knows what the market price is in the Edmonton district.

The plant is being constructed well inside the local market. That is, the output will be far less than the demand for cement in this district, so that the price will always be made by eastern mills, and will be the eastern price, plus the freight rate to this district. This means that with a minimum output of 300,000 barrels annually, a market price exceeding $3.00 per barrel, and a factory cost of less than 80c—the plant can earn for its shareholders an annual net profit of more than $600,000, or 40 per cent. on its entire capital stock.

The quantity of raw materials already owned by the Company is sufficient for the manufacture of more than 12,000,000 barrels of cement, and reckoning this material at the very low value of 20 cents per barrel, the shares of the Company will have a book value of more than $200 each when the plant is in operation. This fact, together with the rate of dividend which the Company will be able to pay, will easily bring the shares up to a recognized market value of $200.

But the market must be created, and it is for just this purpose that we are preparing to offer these shares all over Canada, on the 10th of November, at $110. This means a great deal for Edmonton. It means attracting the attention of the investing public throughout Canada to the opportunities of the Edmonton district. It is the first step towards making Edmonton the financial capital of Northwestern Canada. And in addition to this, it is the first step in a great plan which will have for its purpose the attracting of the idle capital of the entire Dominion of Canada to this city, to be used in the meritorious enterprises of Edmonton and vicinity.

To local shareholders of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company, it means establishing a recognized price for their shares; a price which will give the shares a recognized value with banks and the investing public generally. And, more than that, it means so advancing the price of these shares that the local investor who has shown his confidence in this great enterprise by subscribing for the shares early in its history, will be able to turn any part, or all of his holdings over, later on, at a substantial profit.

Every good investments must have three qualities:

- 1 It must be absolutely safe; the actual value must be behind the investment.
- 2 It must be profitable; that is, it must pay a fair return of interest or dividend on the investment.
- 3 It must be negotiable; that is, the investor must be able to realize on his investment if it is necessary or desirable that he do so.

The shares of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company have now all of these qualities. The property which the Company owns will make the book value of the shares two for one when the plant is in operation. A dividend rate of about 40 per cent. is certainly without many competitors in the Northwest. And the market which is now being created all over Canada for the shares of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company, Limited, will make them easily negotiable.

$400,000 of this stock is already subscribed for by Edmonton citizens, and $100,000 more will be offered to the Edmonton public within the next ten days. But this will be the last opportunity to secure shares in Canada's first great industrial at the price of par value. Subscriptions may be made to

COUNCIL MAY DECIDE TO RESCIND MOTION

Which Authorized Payment of Costs in Bouillon Case Out of Civic Funds—Edmonton Men Offer Sine for Penitentiary

At the next meeting of the city council it is probable that the motion passed a couple of weeks ago, authorizing the reimbursement of the aldermen from the city treasury for the costs of the action of Armstrong vs. Bouillon, will be rescinded. Last evening Alderman Gowan gave notice of motion to that effect declaring that he would not feel justified in taking the money of the city treasury when the courts had ordered otherwise. He still held to the view that the aldermen should have appealed against the decision of Mr. Justice Stuart, and insisted on carrying the question to the highest court. "I was ready to spend more money on this case, to have an appeal against the judgment of Mr. Justice Stuart, fought out to the last," said the alderman, "but in the meantime we could not do otherwise than obey the order of the court."

Supply of Gravel.

Gravel for the use of the city engineer's department, for paving and all similar purposes, will be obtained from the bed of the river and a plant constructed, in all probability, and arrangements made to place the gravel supply on a permanent basis. With the commencement next season of the largest programme of construction in the history of Greater Edmonton, it will be absolutely necessary to insure a continuous supply of this material. At the council meeting last evening, Engineer Lalonde, City Commissioner Candy, presented a report in which they advised that the river bed would prove adequate for probably a hundred years to come. It would be necessary to prepare for the transportation of gravel on a non-permanent basis. A rock crushing plant should be installed in the neighborhood of the supply. This might cost from $25,000 to $50,000, according to circumstances. From the plant the material should be conveyed to the nearest point on the street railway system, and thence over freight cars on the street railway. A start might be made just above the high level bridge and as it became necessary to go higher up stream, the material might be transported by barges. Further information on the question will be obtained by the commissioners and engineer before any definite steps are taken. The question of costs will be reported upon.

City Park Boundaries.

Driscoll and Knight will be asked to advise the city as to the exact boundaries of the city park. Darroch and Bussell claim that some 28 acres belong to them.

Entrance plans of the G.P.N. were approved by the council upon recommendation of the city engineer.

Penitentiary Site.

An offer of some three hundred acres of land, comprising the greater part of the southeast and northeast quarters in section 15, township 25, range 25, west of Fourth Meridian, was received from the owners, Alfred Brown and C. H. Bell, as a new site for the penitentiary. As the Dominion government has not as yet given its consent to the removal of the property, communication was filed.

New Wholesale District.

That it might be undesirable to encourage the opening up of a new wholesale district, as would be the outcome of the construction of spur tracks in the district west of Twenty-first street, was the opinion expressed by Alderman Mould last evening in a report on the application on the Imperial Oil company for track facilities.

In this he differed from Alderman Lumley, who thought that the property near the railroad tracks should be made accessible for commercial purposes. Alderman Lumley advised that the spurs be built down the lanes. After some discussion it was decided to leave over the Imperial Oil company's application for the privilege of crossing Twenty-first street, for consideration at a later date. The company have adequate trackage facilities for their present needs.

Accounts Ordered Paid.

Accounts totaling $112,340.20 will be paid in accordance with the finance commission's recommendation.

SHOULD INCREASE ITS BORROWING POWER

By Adoption of Single Tax Edmonton Should Be Authorized to Borrow 30 p.c. of Assessment

That Edmonton's adoption of the single tax should entitle this city to borrowing powers of 25 to 30 per cent on her net assessment, as compared with the 20 which is now the limit fixed by law for all cities, was the opinion expressed by Mayor Armstrong in council last evening. His workshop stated that the matter had been brought before the union of Alberta municipalities at the recent meeting, and had given rise to some discussion. Cities which assess both land and improvements, it was pointed out, must necessarily show a much larger assessment than cities which adopt the single tax, assessing land only. In consequence the former are given a decided advantage. Mayor Armstrong contended that the borrowing powers of a single tax city should be at least 5 to 10 per cent greater than those of cities which still adhere to the antiquated principle.

EX-BUILDING INSPECTOR GETS A MONTH'S SALARY

Owing to the Fact that He Was Not Given Notice That He Was to Be Dismissed

One month's salary, in lieu of notice of dismissal, was granted last evening to J. Walter Drabble, the ex-building inspector, who was summarily dismissed by the city council. Mr. Drabble was dismissed without notice, and stating that he was justly entitled to his salary under the circumstances, that owing to the time of his dismissal it had been impossible for him to find employment. In his own mind, he asked that the council in fairness make him a grant of $200.

The application gave rise to a discussion in which the action of the commissioners was subject to some criticism. Ald. Trimley declared that in a business's service, "they should do it in a business's service." The superintendent was entitled to notice. "I think Mr. Drabble should have had a month's notice," said Alderman Lumley, "and to move to that grant of one month's salary, $150, be made. He found a second in Alderman Gowan and the motion was carried unanimously."

MASKED BANDITSHOLD UP ROCK ISLAND TRAIN

Express Car Is Rifled of Registered Mail, but Robbers Are Frightened Away by Approaching Switch Engine Secure Very Little of Value

(Western Associated Press) Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 1.—Six masked men held up westbound Rock Island passenger train, No. 45, known as "Arkansas-Oklahoma" express, mid-way between Memphis and Hurlburt, Ark., early this morning, ransacked the mail pouches and first seven ultra-glycerine caps into the safe of the express car which not only tore away the safe doors, but wrecked the car. In the midst of the pillage they were frightened away when a switch engine searching for an over-due train, approached from Hurlburt. The robbers boarded the train when it slowed down near Hurlburt eleven miles from Memphis. Intimidating the engineer and crew by a display of weapons, the men forced the engineer to back the train several miles. The express and mail cars were out from the coach and hauled ahead a short distance. Each of the men went out a certain task. One began gathering the registered mail and another to act a charge of explosive in the safe, while others stood guard over the train crew and passenger coaches. The robbers having charge of the express car selected the larger of the two safes for his attack. This one it happened contained only the less valuable packages. When the charge was fired the ends and sides of the car were splintered and the entire front of the safe blown away. Just at this point in the hold-up the switch engine steamed into sight and the robbers ran away with only what they could hastily grab.

Fewer Naturalization Papers Being Issued

Sixty-Four Persons Applied for Papers During the Month Which Has Just Closed—Names of Those Who Would Become Citizens of the Dominion

Since the close of the federal election campaign there has been a marked falling off in the number of naturalization papers taken out in the judicial district of Edmonton, the arduous of party workers having closed immediately after the declaration of the poll, and while during the week preceding the election an average of almost one hundred papers have been posted during the month last in fact, taken the oath of allegiance prior to September 30, when the elections of the constituency of Edmonton went to the poll.

Following are the names of citizens whose papers of naturalization have been posted in the office of the supreme court, for the month of October:

Sam Small, Lamont; Mike Onyszek, Lamont; Melroy Small, Lamont; William Williams, Lamont; John Mayko, Lamont; Chas. M. Bellor, Lamont; O. C. Anderson, Edmonton; Chas. M. Sear, Edmonton; P. H. Abley, Sumas.

TO INSTAL FILTERS WHICH WILL FILTER

CITY COMMISSIONERS TAKE STEPS TO GIVE THE MUNICIPALITY AN IMPROVED WATER SUPPLY.

An entirely new set of filters for the waterworks plant, filters that will be guaranteed to filter properly, effectively and regularly, is the program of the city council. A representative of the Roberts filter people is now in Edmonton, here for the purpose of presenting a proposition to the municipality regarding filters. When the mayor and two aldermen accompanying him to Ottawa return this matter is to be taken up.

COMMITTEE LEAVES FOR OTTAWA TONIGHT

Mayor George S. Armstrong, Alderman H. L. Melnick and Alderman J. W. Mould will depart from Edmonton this evening enroute to Ottawa where they will meet Premier Borden and cabinet ministers regarding removal of the penitentiary, a wharf on the Saskatchewan river and a rifle range located near the city. The city officials will be absent for more than a fortnight. Today his worship, the mayor, has been an exceedingly busy day, clearing his slate of all business. Yesterday being the end of the month, augmented the work of the mayor to a considerable extent but from the way he is wading into it today, he will have everything in shape before train time.

Inquire About Phones.

Edmonton's telephone system is coming in for a good deal of attention from other Canadian cities that are not satisfied with the service they are getting from the companies operating telephone lines within their boundaries. This morning, Secretary Fisher, of the board of trade received communications from the secretary of the Hamilton board of trade and from the secretary of the board of trade in South Vancouver, asking for reciprocal representation of the telephone system in Edmonton. In both cases the writers have municipal ownership of 'phones in view.

that Hankow city was not retaken by the imperialists, although General Yu Tshing captured the railway station immediately to the north. Contrary to promises, however, the railway service has not been resumed, nor has the telegraph communication been re-established.

The fact that the Associated Press correspondent with Yu Tshing has sent no word from the field for two days may indicate that the censor will not permit him to report unfavorable news.

In the meantime, there are serious dangers along the railway line between the war minister's position and Peking. Dissatisfaction among the troops and the people has prevented satisfactory communication between the various sections of the loyal army. Yuan Shi Kai started for the front yesterday and now is at Sin Yuan Chai. Negotiations looking to a settlement have been under way between Yuan Shi Kai and the revolutionary leaders, but the latter have expressed themselves as having little faith in the promises of the former.

To Protect Americans.

The Americans will hold a meeting at the legation tomorrow to decide upon definite measures for their own protection. Foreign troops guarding the mission houses in Peking, detachments of British, French and other guards already have been alerted to their respective missions which lie outside the legation quarter. The native press has received the reform edicts favorable. The Chinese remembrance for frequently the promises contained in reform edicts have been forgotten, may not be satisfied with these, however. The reformers in Peking are divided into two parties, the extremists, mainly southerners, who insist upon the expulsion of the Manchus; and the moderates, who are numerous throughout the empire, and who are indifferent whether the dynasty is Manchu or Chinese, but want great administrative changes. Whether the two wings will be able to unite is uncertain.

EUROPE BELIEVES STORY OF TURKISH VICTORY

London, Nov. 1.—News of a notable Turkish victory, including the capture of Tripoli, while subject to confirmation, is received here with a considerable degree of credence. In European capitals the feeling is widespread that Italy's alleged success has been much exaggerated, even through reports from Constantinople are equally inflated, and that Italy has received a serious setback.

TORONTO EDITORS WRITE ON CANADIAN ELECTIONS

Macdonald and Willson Tell in London Magazine How It Happened, and Why.

London, Eng., Nov. 1.—Articles on the Canadian elections appear from Rev. A. Macdonald in the November Contemporary Review and from Beckles Willis in the Nineteenth Century. Both attribute the result largely to the strong repugnance of the Canadian electorate for certain elements of American life and fear of the Americanization of Canada. Macdonald commends a series of old grudges, while Willson gives the "Kipling message" much credit for the result.

He says the churches of Canada and the United States seem determined to clear out the saloons altogether and he thinks they will succeed.

Desperate Desmond

As the Villain Is About to Be Crushed by the Rams He Is Saved by Gompotz.

As we have remarked before, a ram has a hard head, but an even harder one. Desmond had no better than his own head against a ram as tough as himself, and now he was about to crash flat. Two men are not quite so tough as they would seem to be. Desmond was certain to be crushed to death as the force of the collision would be terrible. It will be a severe crash, but not bad enough for the comedian.

From the top of a lofty cliff, Linde, Elaine, here, and Rosamund, watch the two men charging toward each other, far below. They can see that Desmond is the one who is climbing frantically to the aid of the Great White Villain, but have no time as it is impossible for them to do anything. It is a desperate struggle, and Desmond is the one who is the dog. They may have some idea of the danger, but they are too far away to do anything. Desmond is the dog. They may have some idea of the danger, but they are too far away to do anything.

Desperately the Wild Men have been climbing and climbing up to the top of which the rams are rushing to the combat which would end the life of the Wild Men's white leader. Although their task seems hopeless, the plucky natives struggle on and finally manage to drive their spears into a couple of bushes in the top. They may have some idea of the danger, but they are too far away to do anything.

The Wild Men did have an object in view when they drove their spears into the bushes in the top. By throwing their weight on the upper landing, they resolve the long end of the rams slip off. Only their reckless haste prevents them from falling on their feet from the top, which is all dead. The rams and rams will be living here this whole winter long, far below them.

"I'm the boy!" cries Desperate Desmond. "I'd answer to at Cherry Island!" as the rams rush bravely away, carrying with them the Great White Villain and his two black understudies. Claude and Rosamund have Desmond in their power again. For the sake of justice, we sincerely hope they will, but there's no way of telling now Monday.
